The Amazing Adventures of Sherman the Sasquatch

By Austin

Once by Red Rock Lake, a sasquatch named Sherman lived there. He loved to lay down on his stump and steal BBQ food from the campers. He loved his life. He really loved the beauty of Red Rock Lake. It was peaceful, relaxing, and awesome!

One day Sherman went for a hike and he smelled something amazing. So, he walked closer to the smell and there it was, a sight of tasty BBQ. So he hid behind a bush and jumped out. “RAHHHHH!” Sherman yelled.

The campers just sat there and said, “Here is some firewood sir and some barbecue.”

Sherman was confused that they didn’t run and weren’t scared like everyone else had before.

Sherman took the firewood and barbecue and left. Later in the morning, Sherman put the BBQ in the fire and ate it. He wrote on his tree some words in sasquatch. He liked the BBQ, and then he went a little ways away to scratch his back on a rock. He looked back at his tree and saw a stranger taking photos of what he wrote. He got mad. So he jumped on the stranger and slapped him in the face!

The stranger escaped and quickly ran away from Sherman. Once the stranger left, Sherman secretly followed him. Then, Sherman jumped on top of the man's car and came to the city.

He saw pictures on a big electronic billboard of what he wrote. The man must have sent the pictures over the cell phone. Sherman did not like this one bit. Once they stopped, he saw a bush. He ran to it and jumped in it. Sherman was scared.

When Sherman walked around the city, people kept calling him the famous sasquatch. He was famous? Sherman could not believe his eyes. He went into a store and grabbed a bottle and walked out.

But as Sherman walked out with a soda pop, the police started to chase him. "No! Thief sasquatch!" they yelled.

Sherman ran as fast as he could and barely escaped by hiding in a tree. Then he saw a way to the forest and left the city.

Once Sherman got back to Red Rock Lake, he knew not to go back to the city. He spent the rest of his days protecting Red Rock Lake and his friends. But on Sundays, they party all night. Sherman was happy with the life before he went to the city. He told his friends about the amazing adventures of Sherman the sasquatch!
