

Siren Island

By: Kieran

Kieran was standing on the side of his boat with a fish spear in his right hand. A large school of tuna had herded a large school of tiny fish underneath the boat. He threw his spear and it hit about five tuna with a thud! Now Kieran had enough food to start traveling again. That night he traveled and he didn't know that he was going to Siren Island. When he was sailing past an island he saw the most beautiful thing of his life. He saw a tropical island that already had a magnificent mansion built and lots of fruit trees. Several beautiful women with long hair were waving at him in their bathing suits. He started to sail toward the island but suddenly he stopped.

He said to himself, "These are sirens their trying to pull me in to the sharp edged rocks so I die." He kept trying to fight what his body was telling; his body was telling him to go to the beautiful voices and creatures; but his mind was saying, 'no don't do it endless you want to suffer to death and then die like your dear friend Luke did.' He didn't want to go down like that to a bunch of sirens that killed his friend. Then Kieran started to turn to towards the sirens. Suddenly his body fell dead his mind took over then fell to sleep. After a while, he woke up and his ship was parked perfectly on the beach. But it wasn't his ship. Out of nowhere this guy came swinging from branches in the forest and onto the beach. He looked like Luke, wait it was Luke. Minutes passed by. Kieran wondered if he was dead or alive. He got Luke's full attention by throwing a coconut at him.

Luke shouted excitedly, "Remember the time I talked about coconuts?"

"Yes I do," replied Kieran "Am I still alive?"

Luke picked up the coconut Kieran threw at him and hit Kieran in the head.

"Ouch, why did you throw that at me?" asked Kieran.

Luke replied, "Because you wanted to know if you are alive."

"Are we still where the sirens are?" Kieran asked nervously.

"Actually yes," Luke stated, "that reminds me put this siren skin on so we can go and get some fruit, and kill two new sirens so we can get new outfits, these ones are starting to rot."

Kieran questioned, "Don't we need something to cover our ears?"

"No," Luke explained, "you see I figured out that their skins give us super powers."

Kieran thought to himself, "This suit is so awesome." It had teal, purple, green, and pink all over it. "Ok," exclaimed Kieran, "Let's go."

Many minutes passed as they were walking in the jungle. Luke whispered, "Be quiet, there's one right there. Here's an coconut shooter."

Luke exploded, "Blow her up!" A large coconut exploded from the barrel and hit the siren in the head. They went up to it. Under the beautiful hair its face was deformed and scales all over it. Its foot long claws were sharp as razors. They started to skin it. They killed another one for Kieran's siren skin.

Many hours later.....

"Now we can finally leave," Kieran stated.

"Wait!" this person cried, "Let me come with you guys!" A figure came running from the jungle. They pointed the coconut at it and said, "stop or we'll shoot."

The person yelled, "I'm not a siren."

They said, "Prove it."

So it showed them its hands and face.

"OK, we believe you," they said.

"Ok hurry up, we are leaving," Luke pleaded.

You wouldn't know if the person was a he or she because they were in the poorest shape anybody has ever seen. Their ribs were poking out of their body and as skinny as can be. When he/she jumped on the ship we had the mysterious person put on a rotten siren suit. The ship was already loaded with lots of fruit and fresh water in coconuts. Then Luke and Kieran asked the person what their name was. It said it was named Billybobjoe A.K.A. Addison.

"OK" Luke and Kieran mumbled.

Luke explained, "It was impossible to row past the huge waves coming into the beach by myself. With all your help we can make it through the waves."

They rowed through the waves and left the island. Kieran said, "Let's go to Lost Island."

MANY HOURS LATER.....

They arrived at Lost Island. There was a legend that there was protector there. Everybody on the boat jumped off because there was a fire ball coming straight at them!

THE END, OR IS IT!?
