Mass Extinction: The Awakening: The Leader.

By Jason

The day was September 14th, 2361. The world got crazy with its power and made a large power wave explosion that wiped some living beings on the world, except for me and my group of friends who had made a bomb shelter. We saw this day coming since the world war IV. It was horrific staying underground for 15 days. We were in there from August 30th to today. We got out today. The world was a whole different place and everything had evolved. We needed a miracle. We needed a leader. We needed me. I am Jason Velicorli and I am The Leader.

“Come on Jason, I need you, this shelter’s door will not open, I think something is stuck on top of it,” said Jarom, our electronics’ man.

“Hold on, first I need to get Jacob, Barent, and Cyerra up. Oh and get me Ziggy,” I yelled. I am Jason Velicorli and I am the leader of our group. Cyerra is our cook, Barent is our scout, and Jacob is our medic.

“Ugh what happened and why are you all scratched up? I think you might have broken your nose,” commented Jacob, our medic.

“OW! My leg is getting crushed! What is on it?” yelled Barent, our scout.

“It is a large chunk of metal. It is in your leg. Just stop squirming,” calmly said Jacob.

Cyerra woke up all quiet.

We got out after hours of trying to budge open the door. The world was different. There were fires everywhere and trees were fallen, so many different things. But one of the things that that I realized was different is that the entire house I lived in was destroyed with all of the belongings except for 1 thing, my goldfish Goldy. Goldy had been mutated because of the radiation. She now was as large as a fire truck and was dying from not having water. We sat there crying over what the world had become for some time until I realized that Goldy had died. But I then noticed that her body would be a really good house. It took hours, but after long enough we completely carved out her body and made it a house with a door.

“So what do we do now because the world is completely destroyed and the arcade is gone? Maybe we can go to the tower that made the explosion,” said Barent.

“No,” I said, “leaving our house at night will be like killing ourselves with paper, hopeless, long, and painful.”

“Well then I might just start with the paper because I am going!” said Barent

“I might start also,” said Jarom

“I might as well just get a robot to do this for me because I will not stop until I get there,” said Cyerra.

“Me too, well I won’t kill myself but you will need me in case you get infected from the open wounds,” said Jacob with excitement (for once).

“Well that makes all of us” I said with so much force it echoed.

A couple of hours later.

“Ugh I am tired,” whined Barent.

“Well it was your fault wanting to come out here,” I said, “Anyways we have not even made it too far, only about 4 miles.”

“Gggggggggggggggggggggg”

“What was that?!” Barent asked scared.

“Gggggggggggggggggggggg”

“AGH!” said Cyerra scared to the bone.

“Gggggggggggggggggggggg”

“No,” calmly said Jacob.

“Gggggggggggggggggggggg”

“Egh,” I said normally “Show yourself blah blah blah.”

Out popped out a funny looking animal. It was like a lion but it walked on 2 legs. Barent pulled out Missile (Barent’s stick launcher), I pulled out Ziggy (my stick launcher), Jarom pulled out Nano (Jarom’s stick launcher), Cyerra pulled out Smash (a wire hammer), and Jacob pulled out Seri (a syringe).

“Gggggggggggggggggggg, My weapon Boom and Pow will beat you,” said the funny looking beast.

“What is your name?” I asked.

“Aletic,” he said.

“Well, Aletic we are not food, if you do come at us we will attack with: Nano, Ziggy, Missile, Seri, and Smash.” I said with a little hope he would come to attack us so we could have a little fun.

“Fine me no destroyed world with you.”

It became super boring having to listen to him. It was 4 or 5 days of walking and resting to make it to the tower.

“Well this is the place,” I said.

“Let’s go in place,” said Aletic.

“Fine,” I said.

We walked about like headless chickens; it was a dark labyrinth with traps everywhere. It was about 1 hour by the time we made it to the top to stop the explosions. All we saw was a mutated Phil, the man who caused the explosion; he had tentacles and was humpbacked.

“B-b-b-b-b-ring i-i-i-i-i-t o-o-on,” said Phil with a wicked voice.

“Let’s dance Phil,” we all said at the same time.

It was a long and disturbing battle. He broke Ziggy, Seri, Smash, Missile, and Nano. We had no weapons besides the pipes that fell from the explosion. It took hours, but we found out a weakness he has, water. We tossed all of our water at him and made him burn. It was easier to destroy him then. When we were about done with him, another explosion happened and sent us all back to a year we don’t know.
