

CYBER WARS

By: James

Cyber Wars

By Jonas

Hi, I'm Sham. My life is great. We live in California in a big city of LA. The year is 2216. I woke up one morning to find my dad eating breakfast and reading the newspaper.

"Huh" he said. "The government has seen shiny objects in the air"

I went outside to say hello to SP-74. SP-74 was our robot maid. She is five feet, with light bulb eyes. She wears a bonnet and an apron.

"Good morning" she moaned.

"Are you ok" I asked. No reply.

"They're coming bzzzzzzzzzz! They're coming!" she exclaimed. Then she shut down.

Right then I heard a rumble, I saw something coming down. A ship! It landed in our back yard. Bam! A laser shot down and killed my father. I ran and ran. Cyborgs, cyborgs everywhere!

“We are sending out space ships,” a voice announced coming from a human at the space base.

A large black oval shaped human spaceship with blue windows was ready to leave the base. Before it could lift off, I got on one them. There were already 2,000 people aboard and they were huddled in a large storage room. The spaceship flew into space and when I looked back Earth was gone.

“I have to find my mom” I said.

“Don’t worry we’ll help you,” a stranger said. He was a middle-aged man with blond hair and wearing a black suit.

Chapter 2

“Who are you?” I asked.

“I am Gideon” he said. “You look familiar. Is your name Sham?”

I replied shockingly, “How did you know my name?”

“I went to war with your father. Your father showed me pictures of you and told me many stories,” he said.

I asked, “Where is this ship heading to?”

Gideon answered, “It’s going to the dark nebula.”

“But I need to find my mom,” I exclaimed.

“Your dad saved my life in the war. I owe him big time! I can take you on my ship,” Gideon replied. “But, we need to get on one quickly before we enter into hyper-speed.”

“Here let’s go then!” I excitedly proclaimed.

We raced to the docking bay. Gideon’s spaceship was gray with several open windows. It was oval shaped and was about 20 feet by 30 feet wide. We climbed on to the ship and detached from the outer dock.

We headed for the asteroid field.

“A cyborg!” I yelled.

It tried to shoot us but it missed us to the right. Gideon shot the cyborg dead. We ran inside to find a factory fixing badly injured men. Just then something grabbed us from behind.

Chapter 3

“We have got the intruders lord Cybertron” a voice said over the loud speaker.

“Good, good my cyborg” said a croaky voice over the speaker.

The cyborgs that grabbed us knocked both of us out.

I woke with a bad head pain. I saw a man with a breathing machine on his face. “I am Cybertron ccccccc” he said.

He breathed in a scary way, “I will have to kill you for coming to my lair.”

“Never!” Gideon yelled.

“One more move like that and you’re dead”.

I had to think of something fast, then it came to me I grabbed Gideon's gun and shot at Cybertron and took a run for it. Cyborgs shot at us but failed to hit us. Bombs were thrown at us. One of them got into the factory and blew it up. We got to the ship and climbed in. Gideon started up the engines quickly and took off as cyborgs started shooting at the ship.

The ship left the planet and headed into space. The engines cut in and out. Gideon had an alarmed look on his face.

"We are too damaged to fly" I said.

"We have to make it work" he said

We started to crash on another planet called Nova 4. We landed and got out. I heard a screech behind me.

"Gideon, Gideon where are you" I called. Blood was on the ground. Right then something was drooling on my head.

TO BE

CONTINUED

.....