Chapter 4 (Because I'm skipping)

Moo

Aidan, Beau and Gus were in the city of Dweeb.

"So... Where are we going?" asked Beau.

"I think to get George, the legendary magical sword of Bob Marley," Aidan said.

So they were off! They were close to the cave, like, really close, only about two feet away. They entered the cave and found George, hanging on the wall, over a spooky scary skeleton with a crown that had carvings like what were on George. Aidan walked forward and two traps went off like a ton of cannons. Two cannon balls flew by each other barely missing them. The ground crumbled around him, revealing boiling water in the middle of the cave's path.

"Yikes!" Aidan yelled.

They slowly crept along the cave wall and nearly fell in a few times. They walked through the cave, twisting and turning, setting off more cannons that were barely missing. Finally, Aidan grabbed the sword. It was blue as the ocean, and seemed very powerful, it had strange carvings that looked like this:

⊗✓⊗♯∞⊗⊗⊗⊗⊗. Then, Gary Tree showed up! Aidan fought him off and Gus got scared so he hid behind him. The sword cut well. But Gary wasn't even fighting! Soon they saw it was really his giant pets! A pigeon and rat!

"Let's get out of here!" Gus screamed.

So they left and returned to Dweeb when the ground collapsed under Aidan! He grabbed on the edge to keep from falling to his death.

"Oh no! I'm literally hanging from a cliff!" Aidan yelled.

Then Gus and Beau grabbed him up and went through the city. They had left and saw a camp. It was night when they left the city so they stayed there for the night.

They woke up and their pants were gone!

"AHHHHH!" They all screamed.

"Someone stole our pants!" Beau yelled while freaking out.

They went into town and bought new pants. Aidan's were pink tights, Gus wears leather pants and Beau's were tights with pineapple patterns. A man named Bob owned the store.

"Do you like pie?" He asked.

"No, why? Are you trying to pay with pie or something like that?" Bob answered.

"Maybe... If I am will I still get my pants?" Aidan asked.

"No, but I accept squirrels as payment," Bob answered.

"Well I just happen to have a squirrel in my pocket- nevermind, I do have..." Aidan said.

He threw a smoke bomb down and they ran away.

"Spaghetti is Good is a food-y place?!" Gus said.

"Yep, Gus the cyborg troll, it is!" A random guy said while walking by.

"How did he know your name?" Aidan whispered to Gus.

They went in and got some spaghetti. They ate the spaghetti and it was good. They then left and went to the Grand Lake. It didn't take long, it isn't as far as you would expect.

MEANWHILE...

Gary Tree had just been leaving into the Tunnel of Fear to get the Black Star from its temple. But he saw bats and he screamed.

"WHY BATS? WHY?!" Gary cried.

BACK TO THE HEROES I GUESS

"What will we even do with the Black Star when we get it?" Aidan asked the others.

"I'm not sure... I was thinking destroying it. But it's up to you guys to decide," Beau answered.

"We can use it to make my armor STRONGER!" Gus commented, hoping Aidan would agree.

"I personally think I could use it for alchemy and stuff, it is infinitely powerful and all," Aidan suggested.

"Well, I agree with Aidan on the alchemy and stuff, mostly because he could make me Magic Juice!" Beau said.

So, they began on their way across the lake and found a bunch of friendly crabs that carried them to the Canyon of Crazyness, where tons of crazy stuff happens. Once, a man named Jeremy went in there and saw a cloud raining babies! He was so scared he nearly went insane!

"Thanks for carrying us over here, it was pretty nice," Beau said.

While he was saying that Gus had a little snack- his crab's legs!

"Gus, give him back his legs!" Aidan said

Anyways, they went to the canyon and Aidan just jumped! Suddenly, he slowly floated down after he said "Moo!" They all jumped eventually, and only Beau floated down when Gus just fell... quickly... and painfully.

"Let's go!" Aidan said when the ground beneath him soon cracked.

"Why did we enchant Gus's armor with thorns?!" Beau screamed.

As they fell, Aidan noticed what looked like a staircase being formed on the wall of the expanding canyon. They eventually landed on the ground and an orange cloud of dust formed around them. Then, emerging from the clouds was a group of scorpions! Aidan just looked at George and noticed its carvings, he soon realized what they were... They were a spell! He read it aloud "Spughuttios" and soon George glowed like a magical cow (I guess) and seemed more powerful than before. Aidan pointed it at one scorpion and it shot a strange blue beam, causing the scorpion to disappear.

"I like this," Aidan said, smiling.

He shot the blue beam at one of the scorpions and the scorpions fled. Soon they left to the staircase formation on the wall of the canyon, George's glow fading and the sun setting. The perfect ending for a story. BUT

NOT THIS STORY! So they were off to Bobby's mountain. They went across the path along the Key (A chain of nearby mountains forming a key) they didn't do much. Aidan cast a spell making magical wolves and they rode them. When they arrived they were talking to Bobby about the Black Star and if he could give them a ride and he refused. So they walked off but the second they left the ground gave out again! Aidan was grabbing on the cliff again for his life. Moo moo.

CHAPTER 6

Aidan just climbed up again. So their adventure continued! They went onto the forest village of Tyton, where they could find the keeper of the Black Star. They had to cross the sea of sand to get there. So they stepped on it and began sinking!

"Panic-y, panic-y!" Gus squealed.

"Be quiet," A disembodied voice said.

"AHHHHH!" All three screamed.

They began to run across the sand, hoping not to sink. They eventually made it safely, it just really scared them. Meanwhile, Gary Tree was nearly at the Temple of the Black Star.

Anyways, while he was doing that the heroes made it into Tyton. They found the largest tree easily, that was the place they were going, to meet Greg, the old keeper of the Black Star that has a key to the Temple of the Black Star, which is where they are going. They went in and talked.

"Pineapples!" Aidan exclaimed.

Mo0 Greg understood perfectly. They went to the temple with Greg.

They got to the forest guarding it. They entered the forest and met a giant, walking bioluminescent mushroom.

"Who are you guys?" The mushroom asked.

"Well then... are you guys sure that we aren't in the Canyon of Craziness?" Aidan asked the others.

"No, this is the Forest of the Black Star. I am Bob, I am a protector of this here forest," Bob said.

So they continued, being watched by Bob. They eventually made it to the temple.

"Well, we're here. Unlock it please!" Gus said.

Greg walked up and just vanished, leaving nothing but a key. It seemed to be gold,
like Greg's clothes.

Now that they had the key, they opened the door. But when they got in Gary already got hold of the Black Star!
