The Journey for Dragons

Chapter One: The Dark Woods

By: Alyssa A

Aalieah is a blue, purple, and black dragon who is currently sitting by a camp fire when suddenly Blue Lightings start attacking and they all had to go in to battle except for the elders. The dragons at the Dragon Mountains scare off the Blue Lightings. When the battle is over, the dragons notice their babies are missing.

When they are looking for the babies, Aalieah gets told that it was probably the Blue Lightings who stole the babies. Then, she goes to her friend Melissa [they're really good friends], and asks her if she wants to go on a journey with her. Melissa and Aalieah go ask their parents if they could go on a trip their parents say that its fine but they have to watch out for Blue Lightings.

When they start flying, Melissa asks Aalieah, “Where are we going?”

Aalieah replied, “We are going to find the babies.”

“O.K,” said Melissa. When they were flying toward the Lair of the Blue Lightings Aalieah and Melissa try to fly away but more Blue Lightings came in from all directions and made sure they didn’t get away.

When they got inside the cave was bigger than ever inside. Aalieah and Melissa started asking questions like, were are the babies. They were took to the King and Queen to talk to them. Aalieah asked, “Do you have any babies that are different, “.

“Or have any of your guards seen them
“said Melissa.

The Queen said, “We don’t have the babies.”

The King said, “Would you like to see were we keep all the Blue Lighting babies?”
Without letting them answer he led them into a really bright room with ten little baby Blue Lightings all playing together. “Oh, I didn’t know that you didn’t have them.”
sighed Melissa.

Aalieah said, “We will be going now, bye.” Aalieah and Melissa fled off and this time they were not attacked by any Blue Lightings.

So, they started on their course but they decided to take the long way through the Dark Woods so they wouldn't be followed. But, what they didn't know was that there is a dragon called the Lava Thrower. The Lava Thrower is a yellow, orange, and black dragon, they are big.

When they entered the woods, Aalieah saw huge footprints. "Look at those footprints Melissa, there huge!" said Aalieah.

"Whoa! Those are huge!" Aalieah and Melissa followed them deep into the woods all of a sudden a dragon came out of the blue and charged at them. Aalieah and Melissa swooped down and then came back up and fired at her. Then Aalieah, Melissa, and the dragon all swooped down and each landed on a different bolder. Aalieah said, "What are you doing?! You could have killed us!"

"Yeah! What were you thinking?" said Melissa.

"Well, sorry girls. What are your guy's names? My name is Kaylee." said Kaylee.

Aalieah replied, "My name is Aalieah."

"My name is Melissa." said Melissa.

Kaylee asked, "Where are you guys going?"

"We are going to find all the babies of the Dragon Mountains.", replied Melissa.

"Oh yeah. I saw some humans and their dragons fly by just a while ago." said Kaylee.

Aalieah asked, "Which way did they go? Did they have any babies with them?"

Kaylee pointed with her wing to a big opening in the trees and replied, “Yes they did have some babies with them. The dragons were carrying them on their backs and some were held by the humans,” Aalieah and Melissa said good-bye and glided off into the trees. Aalieah yelled, “Thank you!!” As they were flying Aalieah noticed that there was a distant glow. “Melissa. Look at that”.

“Look at what? I see it now my mom told me that it was called the River of Lava”, said Melissa. Aalieah and Melissa decided, when they get there, they would follow it. Aalieah and Melissa felt an up draft and got blown up and lost sight of the River of Lava.
