Chapter 1

“When we were the Over Lords, a small gray rabbit just attacked,” said Jackie.

“So Rodney, you’re a dog, and Jackie, you’re a hamster?” said Barbara.

“Yes ma’am,” answered Rodney.

Rodney asked, “How do we get back to the Over World?”

“First, you need to go to the River of Death Bubbles. Then, you need to go to the Floating Island of Doom.”

“Wait is that the one with legs?”

“Sorry, Floating Island of Doom with Legs. Anyways, go to The Deep Puddle of Milt. Then, travel the long distance across The Dessert of Rock Crumbs. Cross the river again, and then come across the Giant Death Dog. Defeat it, and move on to the Cemetery of Life. I know ironic name, but go and defeat the Death Bunny, and he is the keeper of the Growth Machine.”

Jackie was half asleep when Rodney gave her a nudge. Then they began on their journey.

When they got to the River of Death Bubbles they saw something. Not a fish without pants, unless you’ve noticed they don't wear pants, but they saw little skeletons floating to the surface. It looked like all the hair and skin was burned off.

"It's a UFO. HELP!" yelled Jackie

"Oh, shut your face," replied Rodney.

It was a giant cloth. They had to run, but that's kind of hard with little legs like Jackie's because they knew the Overlords get impatient. Just like they thought the Overlords took it back quicker than a cheetah on steroids. Then they got whipped to the Floating Island of Doom with Legs.

When they landed they found themselves outside a boat. Not any boat, a giant papier-mâché rainbow colored deluxe power ranger boat. Jackie was the biggest power ranger fan, so you could guess she was excited to go on the boat. On the side it said in big bold letters "The Princess Piantic."

"The place seems a little weird, Jackie." said Rodney.

"Oh, don't get your fur tangled." replied Jackie.

Then, they boarded The Princess Piantic.

There they saw little troll people with green ooze and mucus coming out of their eyeballs. Yeah that's right mucus. Then, on the little intercom the captain yelled, "Stowaway alert! Stowaway alert!" and for Jackie and Rodney everything went black.

When they gained consciousness they were on a plank as the captain yelled "Walk the plank!" and with the swing of his sword they...
